

The Business Journal, Portland

June 6, 1997

Page 7

Construction Firm Targets High-tech Jobs

DPR, the fast-growing construction company responsible for Gresham's LSI Logic plant opened a permanent office in downtown Portland. With an eye toward reaping more high-tech contracting jobs, the office promises to shake up competition among contractors serving the electronics, biotechnology, and medical fields.